Welcome to the Association Kitchen

Please note that the association kitchen is publicly accessible and may also be used by other people as a relaxation and meeting space during your event.

The Association Kitchen is for everyone:

... take care of the association kitchen by leaving the space clean and disposing of any waste yourself.

... be considerate of others by adhering to public rules regarding noise and safety. Activities with high noise levels are not allowed. Quiet hours begin at 10pm.

... take responsibility yourself. The Bern Museum Quarter assumes no liability for personal or property damages. For events involving minors, the legal guardians are responsible for supervision and liability.

The fire pit can be used in accordance with the following rules:

... use the available firewood sparingly.

... use only safe and tested fire starters for lighting the fire.

... never leave the fire unattended.

... make sure to thoroughly extinguish the fire when leaving the association kitchen, ensuring no embers remain.

... dispose of the ash in the provided metal bin and make sure it is completely cooled down.

... refrain from starting a fire during strong winds or after prolonged dry spells, and follow the cantonal and local regulations.
